Fake antivirus software is one of the most persistent threats on the internet today. Masquerading as legitimate antivirus software, these malicious programs extort money from you to fix your computer. This new antivirus program even disables legitimate security software that you already have, leaving you exposed to real threats. These rogue programs catch unsuspecting users by displaying a browser popup that warns you that your computer may be infected, and that you need to download a (fake) security software to fix the problem. This type of malware is often referred to as scareware since the pop-ups use messages like You have a virus, as a way to get you to click. Most of us are eager to get rid of any potential problems as quickly as possible, which opens a huge window of opportunity for these bad actors. If successful, the cybercriminals get your credit card details and other personal information, and you get nothing but malware in return. They may be old, but they're still very efficient. These older sprayers are still the workhorses of the fleet because they've been proven to perform, they're rugged, and they're more affordable than the newer models available. So how can you tell if the riser is leaking? A black or dark color from excessive soot can indicate that it's time to repaint or replace the muffler. A clogged or filthy muffler can be repaired, but a clogged emulsion injector will need to be replaced. If your muffler looks like it leaks, you may need to buy a new one.
